ABOUT US

My husband, Eric, and I have made our home on a forested hill in central Pennsylvania, just south of Gettysburg. We have owned four Jack Russells over 30 years. They are loving, playful and persistent, just right for our lifestyle living in the woods where they have lots of critters to chase and rocks to dig under.

Along with our Jack Russell daughter, Oboe, we are expecting a litter of AKC Jack Russel Terriers due in mid-September. Oboe is the first female we've had, and as soon as we met her, we just knew she would have wonderful puppies someday. She is 2 years old with a smooth black and white coat. She hails from Butterball Kennels in Citra, Florida. The dad, Sensei, also from Butterball, is brown and white with a rough coat. Sensei is an AKC Grand Champion. We are expecting to have at least three puppies available, starting in mid-November.

Oboe, and our other Jack, Capo, are formidable rodent hunters and love romping around as much as they love cuddling. This breed needs lots of exercise and engagement—which keeps us active and outside rain or shine, snow or sleet.

About our name: Maestro Jack's Kennels. You may have noticed that Oboe and Capo are musical terms. My husband and children are all musicians, and we have temporarily nicknamed Oboe's puppies in the same theme. Meet the cutest little members of Maestro Jack's orchestra: Mama Oboe and little Allegro, Poco, Banjo, and Bebop.
